Valley School Baseball Season Will Open Today

The Valley School Baseball ledgue opens today with three games scheduled to start the season off big.

Tempe Normal and Tempe High will play at Tempe; the Indian school team will go to Glendale to play Glendale high, and Phoenix will play Mesa high at Glendale

The Coyetes are not downhearted from Tuesday's defeat at the hands of the Alumai, but on the contrary are filled with the 'pep' that means success. The boys received good training in the alumni game and Coaches Venne and Kreighaum were given an opportume to touch the weak spots in the lineup. The regular senson team will not be picked for today's game as several good men have not had an opportunity to show their class due to illness. Just as soon as the boys have all been given a trial the team will be lined up for season play.

The following men will be lined up for season play.

The following men will probably wear Coyote uniforms today: J. Miller, captain; right field. Elmore; left field. Wilky, center field; Fred Miller and Lefty Brawner, pitchers; Doyle, first base; Flickinger, second base; Gilliand, short stop; Milage, third base; Gray, catcher.

Others who show promise are Davis, captain of the basketball team; Joe Trummel, pitcher and heavy hitter with the grammar schools last year, and Lewis Conner, a likely looking all around player, and Kelly. Coyote mascot, will not be overlooked in the regular lineup.

All league games will start at 4 p. m.

Muscles are deceiving. And weight-lifting is a science. Great strength is valueless unless it is used properly. A man who understands leverage and co-ordination can lift or pull more than a much stronger man.

Travis is a natural strong man. He was a boy wonder. He began his public career at an early age by lifting beer barrels in Steve Brodie's famous saloon on the Bowery. Steve would hand him a dine and young Warren would nand himself some free lunch and spend his profits on candy—his only dissipation.

Travis's diet theories are noteworthy in comparison with the cating proclivi-ties of strong men of the past. This native Hercules eats but two regular native Hercules eats but two regular meals a day. An average breakfast consists of two glasses of warm milk, a dish of apple sauce, and two thick slices of whole wheat bread 48 hours old.
